DETAILED ACTION

Claims 44-64 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 44-54, 57-61 drawn to a method of recruiting progenitor cells by using an implant that includes growth factors, angiogenic/vasculogenic factors or bone marrow recruiting factors.

Group II, claims 55, 56 and 62-64 drawn to the implant composed of polymeric mesh housing and a drug delivery system and one of growth factors, angiogenic/vasculogenic factors or bone marrow recruiting factors.

(It is noted that claims 63 and 64 are dependent on claim 63; while they are disclosed to the method, it is considered that these claims are product claims)

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The shared technical features of Group I and II invention is “implant including one of growth factors, angiogenic/vasculogenic factors or bone marrow recruiting factors.”

Since this feature is known in the art according to Ludwig et al. (US 2003/0082148). Ludwig et al. teach methods and compositions for recruiting cells (endothelial progenitor cells) (abstract) by using an implant containing growth factors (par. 77, 80).

Therefore, the technical feature shared by Group I and II is known in the art, and thus the unity of invention is lacking.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Type of factors included in the implant: growth factor, angiogenic/vasculogenic factors, bone marrow recruiting factors (claim 44, 62)

Type of polymer: PLA, PLGA, poly(fumaric acid:sebacic acid) co-polymer, polycaprolactone (claims 47 and 57)

Type of angiogenic/vasculogenic factors: from the list of claim 48, 58 (the election of the species from this group is only required when angiogenic/vasculogenic factors is elected above)

Type of bone marrow recruiting factors: from the list of claim 48, 58 (the election of the species from this group is only required when bone marrow recruiting factors is elected above)

Type of progenitor cells: endothelial progenitors, hematopoietic progenitors, hemangioblasts, neural progenitors, epithelial progenitors, CD133+ cells, CD34+ cells

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species from each group listed above to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Pursuant to PCT Rule 13.2 and PCT Administrative Instructions, Annex B, Part 1(f)(I)(B)(2), the species are not art-recognized equivalents.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
